

COPYRIGHT CLAIMS BOARD

Docket number: 24-CCB-0026

February 6, 2024

Helen Walters

CLAIMANT

v.

Tryndi (Maher Alhakim)

RESPONDENT

ORDER TO AMEND NONCOMPLIANT CLAIM

The Copyright Claims Board (Board) finds that your claim does not comply with the requirements of the CASE Act and related regulations. The claim cannot move forward unless it is amended.

If you wish to proceed with this claim, you must file an amended claim by March 7, 2024. If you do not, the Board must dismiss your claim without prejudice, although you may file again in the future before the Board or in federal court. If you file an amended claim and it is found compliant, you will be notified and directed to proceed with service. There is no additional filing fee for an amended claim. 17 U.S.C. § 1506(f)(1)(B).

To make your amended claim compliant, you must resolve the issues identified below. 37 C.F.R. § 224.1\(c\)\(2\). You may also choose to correct or edit any errors or other information in your claim before you file it again. You do not need to provide a legal argument in your claim – just a statement of facts and circumstances. Being specific in your description gives the other party and the Board more information about your claim. There is no character limit, so please be as detailed as possible.

Respondent Clarity

Your claim appears to list two respondents in a single entry, Tryndi and Maher Alhakim, but you are not permitted to combine them into one entry. When filing a claim against more than one respondent, you must add each respondent separately in the online claim form.

Further, the Board can only hear claims asserted against multiple respondents if all claims in the proceeding “arise out of the same allegedly infringing activity or continuous course of infringing activities[.]” 17 U.S.C. § 1504(c)(6). In your claim, you allege that the entity “Tryndi” is “using my poem to sell its jewelry products.” However, your claim does not present facts that clearly state how each respondent used your exclusive rights in the allegedly infringed work without permission. The law treats business entities separately from individuals that may own them. Meaning “Tryndi” may have its own legal status separate and apart from Maher Alhakim. Your allegations do not describe any specific acts that Maher Alhakim engaged in that violated your rights, or explain the relationship between the two respondents.

Copyright law grants exclusive rights to copyright owners. These include the right to reproduce, distribute, and publicly display the work, and to make a “derivative work,” which is a work based on the original work. Someone who does one of those activities without the copyright owner's permission may be infringing the copyright, unless they have a legitimate defense. More information about exclusive rights is available on page 3 of the Starting an Infringement Claim chapter of the CCB Handbook.

When you submit an amended claim, you must more fully explain how each respondent infringed your allegedly infringed work. To address this issue, your amended claim must include facts in the "Describe the infringement" section that describe (1) acts infringing your copyrights in the work, specifying the infringing works and how the respondents engaged in the infringing activity, and (2) the infringing acts of each respondent, specifying the allegedly infringed and infringing works for each respondent. You should be as detailed as possible, setting forth what each respondent did in relation to the work you allege was infringed. If you cannot state facts to support an infringement claim against any named respondents, you must omit them in the amended claim.

To submit an amended claim, log into your eCCB account and take the following steps:

1. From your dashboard, click the "Amend claim" button and select your docket number from the dropdown list.
2. Your claim will unlock for editing. The information you originally entered will appear in the same order as in your original claim.
3. Make the necessary edits. If you have filed supplemental documents, you must re-upload any documents you wish to include in the amended claim on the "Documentation" page. Please include only documents directly related to your claim, and label them clearly.
4. Once you have completed your edits, continue to click through the fillable claim form until you reach the "Review" page. The Review page includes all the information that you have provided in the claim up to this point. Carefully double-check the information on this page. If you have any corrections, you can select "Edit" to revise any entries necessary. Each section of information has an "Edit" button, which will take you back to that section so you can make changes. After you make changes, you can click "Save & review" to return to the Review page. Please review your claim carefully. Once you submit your amended claim, you will be unable to edit the claim while it is in compliance review.
5. Once you have completed your review and any revisions, you must confirm that the information in your claim is accurate and truthful to the best of your knowledge. To complete the declaration, type your full name into the "Digital signature" box near the bottom of the "Review filing" page and click "Agree & submit."
