CLAIMANT

v.

Apple Inc.

RESPONDENT

ORDER DISMISSING CLAIM WITHOUT PREJUDICE

On March 10, 2023, the Copyright Claims Board (Board) issued an Order to Amend Noncompliant Claim and on April 10, 2023, the claimant filed an amended claim. On May 19, 2023, the Board issued a second Order to Amend Noncompliant Claim notifying the claimant that the claim did not comply with the requirements of the CASE Act and related regulations and would be dismissed unless an amended claim was filed by June 20, 2023. 37 C.F.R. § 224.1(c)(2).

No amended claim was filed in the time allowed. Accordingly, the Board dismisses this proceeding without prejudice and closes case 23-CCB-0030. 17 U.S.C. § 1506(f)(1)(B). Dismissal without prejudice means the claimant may raise the allegations against by filing a new claim.
