

COPYRIGHT CLAIMS BOARD

Docket number: 23-CCB-0303

September 28, 2023

Keith F. Bell

CLAIMANT

v.

Auto Dealer University, Joe Cala

RESPONDENTS

ORDER TO AMEND NONCOMPLIANT CLAIM

The Copyright Claims Board finds that your claim does not comply with the requirements of the CASE Act and related regulations. The claim cannot move forward unless it is amended.

If you wish to proceed with this claim, you must file an amended claim by October 30, 2023. If you do not, the Board must dismiss your claim without prejudice, although you may file again in the future before the Board or in federal court. If you file an amended claim and it is found compliant, you will be notified and directed to proceed with service. There is no additional filing fee for an amended claim. 17 U.S.C. § 1506(f)(1)(B).

To make your amended claim compliant, you must resolve the issues identified below. 37 C.F.R. § 224.1\(c\)\(2\). You may also choose to correct or edit any errors or other information in your claim before you file it again. You do not need to provide a legal argument in your claim – just a statement of facts and circumstances. Being specific in your description gives the other party and the Board more information about your claim. There is no character limit, so please be as detailed as possible.

Copyright Infringement – Respondent Clarity

Your copyright infringement claim does not present any facts to state how each respondent used your exclusive rights in the allegedly infringed work without permission.

Copyright law grants exclusive rights to copyright owners. These include the right to reproduce, distribute, and publicly (display/perform) the work, and to make a “derivative work,” which is a work based on the original work. Someone who does one of those activities without the copyright owner’s permission may be infringing the copyright, unless they have a legitimate defense.

Your claim does not include specific allegations about the infringing activities of each respondent. In your claim you refer to the “respondent’s posts” and “respondents’ unauthorized uses;” however, only one post was attached to the claim as a supplemental document and your claim does not parse the infringing activities of each respondent. If there are multiple instances of infringement, please provide clarification about the number of posts in which your work allegedly appears.

If you submit a second amended claim, it must include facts that more fully explain how both respondents infringed your work. To address this issue, your second amended claim must include facts in the “Describe the infringement” section that describe acts infringing your copyrights, specifying how each respondent engaged in the infringing activity. The claim must provide enough information to enable each respondent to understand the claim and respond to it.

Alternatively, if you do not contend that one of the respondents did not participate in the same course of allegedly infringing activity your second amended claim should omit them as a respondent.

To submit an amended claim, log into your eCCB account and take the following steps:

1. From your dashboard, click the “Amend claim” button and select your docket number from the dropdown list.
2. Your claim will unlock for editing. The information you originally entered will appear in the same order as in your original claim.
3. Make the necessary edits. If you have filed supplemental documents, you must re-upload any documents you wish to include in the amended claim on the “Documentation” page. Please include only documents directly related to your claim, and label them clearly.
4. Once you have completed your edits, continue to click through the fillable claim form until you reach the “Review” page. The Review page includes all the information that you have provided in the claim up to this point. Carefully double-check the information on this page. If you have any corrections, you can select “Edit” to revise any entries necessary. Each section of information has an “Edit” button, which will take you back to that section so you can make changes. After you make changes, you can click “Save & review” to return to the Review page. Please review your claim carefully. Once you submit your amended claim, you will be unable to edit the claim while it is in compliance review.
5. Once you have completed your review and any revisions, you must confirm that the information in your claim is accurate and truthful to the best of your knowledge. To complete the declaration, type your full name into the “Digital signature” box near the bottom of the “Review filing” page and click “Agree & submit.”
