CLAIMANTS

v.

Katelynn Haydel

RESPONDENT

ORDER TO AMEND NONCOMPLIANT CLAIM

The Copyright Claims Board finds that your claim does not comply with the requirements of the CASE Act and related regulations. The claim cannot move forward unless it is amended.

If you wish to proceed with this claim, you must file an amended claim by February 14, 2025. If you do not, the Board must dismiss your claim without prejudice, although you may file again in the future before the Board or in federal court. If you file an amended claim and it is found compliant, you will be notified and directed to proceed with service. There is no additional filing fee for an amended claim. 17 U.S.C. § 1506(f)(1)(B).

To make your amended claim compliant, you must resolve the issues identified below. 37 C.F.R. § 224.1(c)(2). You may also choose to correct or edit any errors or other information in your claim before you file it again. You do not need to provide a legal argument in your claim – just a statement of facts and circumstances. Being specific in your description gives the other party and the Board more information about your claim. There is no character limit, so please be as detailed as possible.

Allegedly Infringed Works – Clarity

You are bringing a claim of copyright infringement. The claim must state the title of each allegedly infringed work. 37 C.F.R. § 222.2(c)(7)(ii)(A). The claim must also state the Copyright Office registration number for each work; or if it is not yet registered, the service request number of an application for registration that was submitted before the claim was filed. 37 C.F.R. § 222.2(c)(7)(ii)(C)-(D). The Board can only hear the claim if, before the claim was filed, (1) the legal or beneficial owner of the copyright applied to register the copyright and (2) a registration certificate for the copyrighted work has either been issued or has not been refused. 17 U.S.C. § 1505(a). Your claim includes confusing allegations identifying the allegedly infringed works, at least one of which appears to be unregistered.

In the “Works infringed” section of the claim, you list a single allegedly infringed work titled Beanie Babies Price Guide, registered by the Copyright Office with Registration No. TXu002195630. Your description of the work refers to not only the Beanie Babies Price Guide but also two other works: Beanie Buddies Price Guide and Pluffies Price Guide. The TXu002195630 registration covers a group of ten literary works, including works titled Beanie Babies Price Guide 3 in 1 and Beanie Buddies Price Guide 3 in 1, but it does not cover a work titled Pluffies Price Guide. In the “Description of harm suffered and relief sought” section of the claim, you seek an award of damages for each of the three price guides, including the apparently unregistered Pluffies Price Guide. If that work was neither registered nor subject to a pending application for registration that was submitted before you filed this claim, it cannot be a basis for an infringement claim in this proceeding.

If you file an amended claim, you must omit any allegations that the respondents infringed that work, unless you can provide a registration number that was issued, or a service request number for an application for registration that was submitted, before you filed this claim on January 2, 2025. In addition, to clarify the works at issue in an amended claim, you should list each allegedly infringed work separately in its own entry in the “Works infringed” section, including the title and all specified information requested about each work.

Your identification of the allegedly infringed works is also unclear because it suggests that the respondent may not have used the versions of the works that the TXu002195630 registration covers. That registration issued in 2020 for works that were completed in 2020. However, in the “Description of harm suffered and relief sought” section, you provide a 2022 date for each of the three price guides (for instance, “2022 Beanie Babies price guide”). In your amended claim, please state additional facts that indicate how the allegedly infringed works, if they date from 2022, relate to the registered works from 2020. For example, it appears that you may update your works periodically, as supplemental documents filed with the claim indicate that each of the price guides has been displayed on your website with a “Copyright © 1998-2022” copyright tag, and another document you filed appears to show 2024 versions of each price guide on your website. If the allegedly infringing works are copies of updated versions that include substantial creative material from your registered works, then you may include such facts in your amended claim. In the alternative, if you have a separate registration or application for a more recent edition of any allegedly infringed work that was filed before you filed this claim, you must list that work and registration or application separately as its own entry in the “Works infringed” section of the claim.

To submit an amended claim, log into your eCCB account and take the following steps:

1. From your dashboard, click the “Amend claim” button and select your docket number from the dropdown list.
2. Your claim will unlock for editing. The information you originally entered will appear in the same order as in your original claim.
3. Make the necessary edits. If you have filed supplemental documents, you must re-upload any documents you wish to include in the amended claim on the “Documentation” page. Please include only documents directly related to your claim, and label them clearly.
4. Once you have completed your edits, continue to click through the fillable claim form until you reach the “Review” page. The Review page includes all the information that you have provided in the claim up to this point. Carefully double-check the information on this page. If you have any corrections, you can select “Edit” to revise any entries necessary. Each section of information has an “Edit” button, which will take you back to that section so you can make changes. After you make changes, you can click “Save & review” to return to the Review page. Please review your claim carefully. Once you submit your amended claim, you will be unable to edit the claim while it is in compliance review.

5. Once you have completed your review and any revisions, you must confirm that the information in your claim is accurate and truthful to the best of your knowledge. To complete the declaration, type your full name into the “Digital signature” box near the bottom of the “Review filing” page and click “Agree & submit.”
